LOCAL LACONICS.

How do you like?

Don't fail to hear Miss Lily Runals sing.

The town was unusually lively Saturday evening.

King & Coleman have invested in real estate at Sykesville.

THE STAR and Volunteer will be published on Wednesday hereafter.

Edward J. Schultz, proprietor of the City Meat Market, is having his shop remodeled.

A twenty-five cent show will pitch its tents on the vacant lots near the Moore House Saturday.

Corwin, the photographer, was compelled to enlarge his gallery on account of his increased business.

Frank Hoffman, the butcher, has made a decided improvement in the appearance of his meat shop.

"The three most difficult things are: to keep a secret, to employ time properly, and to bear an injury."

Since last Thursday morning Solomon Shaffer, the lumberman, counts one more little girl to buy dresses for.

Frank J. Black, proprietor of Hotel McConnell, presented this office with six newspaper files, for which we are thankful.

The people of DuBois have reasons to believe that the B. R. & P. R. Co. will put up a new passenger station at that place.

Miss M. E. Moore keeps all the newest and best styles in the market. Her stock is the largest and her prices the lowest.

The Grand Army Post of Reynoldsville are making the necessary arrangements for the usual observance of Memorial Day.

J. M. Norris, of Paradise Settlement, killed a calf last week that was four weeks old and weighed 106½ lbs. when dressed.

The transportation facilities were not sufficient to accommodate all who desired to go on the excursion to DuBois on Sunday.

The Daughters of Liberty held a festival in the G. A. R. hall Saturday evening. Financially, it was not a glowing success.

Thomas Mahoney has opened another meat shop in Reynoldsville. Meat shop No. 2 will be in the room next door to E. T. McGaw's office.

The semi-annual convention of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association, will be held at Punxsutawney on May 24th and 25th.

The second annual statement of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association was crowded out of this issue, will appear next week.

Bell Bros., the clothiers, who are successful business men, believe in a liberal use of printers' ink. Read their advertisement on fourth page.

The new M. E. Church at Sigel will be dedicated next Sunday. Rev. Purshing, D. D. of Pittsburg, will be present and preach the dedicatory sermon.

The ladies of the Reynoldsville Guilding Star lodge will hold an ice cream, strawberry and cake festival in the G. A. R. hall on Wednesday evening, May 25th.

A number of Mrs. C. H. Gordon's lady friends got up a surprise party last Thursday and assembled at her home to spend a social and pleasant evening together.

Robert Yeaney, who has been in the merchandise business at Sykesville for several years, has disposed of his store there and may go into business in Reynoldsville.

E. Neff has received his commission and has taken the oath of office as Justice of the Peace. This makes the fourth time Mr. Neff has been commissioned J. P.

John Shultz hobbled around several days this week because a heavy board fell a distance of twelve feet and was striking "the nail on the head"—of his great toe on right foot.

The Burgess has issued an edict that all the streets, alleys, backyards, &c., must receive attention and be relieved of the trash there accumulated.

William Foster, the confectionery dealer, who has had a serious tussle for four weeks with typhoid fever, the typhus very nearly getting the better of him, is now convalescing.

A brick addition is being built on to the post-office. This is a much needed improvement, as the office was too small to give the Postmaster and his assistants room to do their work with comfort.

John Mulholland, of Rathmel, has purchased Dr. Bowser's residence on East Main street. The doctor expects to build somewhere in the west end of town. Mr. Mulholland will move to this place.

A special train of three coaches from the B. R. & P., passed over the R. & F. C. R. R. last Friday carrying some officials of the B. R. & P., the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co., and a number of their friends.

The Prohibitions of Jefferson county will hold a convention in the Court House at Brookville on Monday of next week, May 16th. It is expected that the State Chairman will attend the Convention.

Dr. B. E. Hoover, who is tenderly caring for the fifth boil on the back of his neck, thinks that amidst Job's great afflictions he never had a boil on his neck—especially such excruciating ones as he has to suffer with.

The body of the man who was drowned at Falls Creek on the 2nd inst., was found last Sunday about five hundred yards below where he went under the logs. His name was Joseph Mondorf and he was an employee of Degnan & McDonald.

Prof. W. J. Weaver, of Reynoldsville, received his commission several days ago as National Deputy of the Daughters of Liberty. The Professor expects to institute a Daughters of Liberty lodge at DuBois and one at Deemer's Cross roads in the near future.

After an explosion of George Washington Stoke's usually unexplosive temper, the soda fountain in H. Alex. Stoke's drug store has been loaded with "phiz" and now all who desire to can slake their thirst at the fountain—if they have the price.

Wm. Burge, who has been suffering for several weeks with an injured foot, is able to look after his business affairs again. Mr. Burge stepped off the sidewalk onto a board with a nail in it and the rusty nail almost made its appearance on the upper side of his foot.

With this issue we announce the candidacy of Capt. Jas. G. Mitchell, of Perryville, for State Senator. The Captain is a veteran of the late war, has been a life long Republican and is known to a large number of the Jefferson county people as a gentleman of integrity.

J. A. Welsh, the groceryman, went to Pittsburgh Tuesday morning to be treated by Father Mullinger. Mr. Welsh has been afflicted with rheumatism for almost three years. Prior to his coming to Reynoldsville last year, he was confined to the house for seven months.

Rev. P. P. Womer, of this place, who was attending the Delaware University at Delaware, Ohio, and was sent from that school, about the first of this year, to Carlington, Forest County, North Dakota, to fill an appointment for a short time, has decided to remain there for sometime.

Albert Reynolds, who has been Notary Republic for twenty consecutive years, has been assured by Governor Pattison that his commission will be renewed for another four years on the 19th inst., when his present term expires. Mr. Reynolds is a staunch Republican yet this will be his second commission under a Democratic Governor.

G. G. Williams, of Benozette, Pa., is now night dispatcher in the A. V. R. Y. office at this place. By-the-way, our neighbor, the DuBois Courier, mentioned not long since, in a bragging manner, that the telegraph office at that place was now open all night. We have had a night operator at this place for over a year.

Prof. G. M. Jaquay will hold a meeting in the Lecture room of the M. E. church on Thursday evening at 7.30 for the purpose of organizing a musical convention. Prof. Jaquay closed, on Tuesday evening, a successful convention at Brookville. Let all interested in music at and his meeting on Thursday evening.

James Degnan and Patrick McDonald, the extensive lumbermen of this place, intend putting in nearly twenty-two million this season, which began the first of the present month. They will put in from eight to ten million at Green Briar, in Polk township, and from ten to twelve million at Falls Creek and along the Sandy Lick between Falls Creek and Reynoldsville. These gentlemen are energetic lumbermen.

The school directors and councilmen of DuBois must, undoubtedly, be "sports." The Courier says: "The dates for the boxing matches in DuBois invariably correspond with the dates for meetings of council and the school board. A coincidence of that kind always increases the difficulty in getting a quorum to remain long enough at a business meeting to do business." Are the police and all the other officers "in it" too?

A MINE DISASTER.

A Reynoldsville Young Man Meets Death 3,000 Miles Away from Home.

John Bone, son of Robert Bone, of Reynoldsville, was instantly killed in a mine disaster Tuesday, May 10, on the Pacific slope. He was working for the Union Pacific Coal company at Roelyn, Washington state, when the explosion occurred which cost him his life. From forty to fifty other men met death at the same time.

John Bone was an employee of the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co., working in the Pleasant Valley mines, until about four years ago when he and a brother, Richard, left the parental roof to seek a livelihood in the western country. Richard returned home about the first of April and the parents have been looking for John home most any day, as he has been promising them he would come. He was 27 years old and the fourth son of a family of nine boys and three girls, this being the first tie broken in the family circle. When the boy, for whom they now mourn, arrived home it was the intention of the parents to have a picture of the family in a group, as their daughter, Mrs. Kirkman, of Peel, Clearfield Co., is now at home waiting her brother's arrival. The expectations of joy and pleasure have been turned into mourning. The mother is almost frantic with grief. The remains will be shipped here for burial, but the family are unable to make any definite arrangements yet. It will be impossible to get the body here before Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Next Sunday being the third anniversary of the organization of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church and termed "League Day," the evening services of the church at this place will be conducted by the League. An appropriate and interesting program has been prepared for the occasion.

A special train was run from this place to DuBois Monday evening for "sports" to witness the Butler-McTigue boxing match. The train was composed of two coaches, which accommodated the people very comfortably going up, but after remaining at DuBois three or four hours the crowd swelled—the heads of many of them—so large that the two coaches were packed on the homeward trip. The boxing match was a farce, according to the Courier's version of the affair.

The school question has been agitated extensively by the Volunteer during the past five or six weeks and we will not devote space to it at present. It is patent to all that it is an important question. The school directors viewed the town Monday afternoon with object of selecting some site, or sites, for school building purposes. There was nothing definite done. What will be the outcome of this weighty question now being carefully and thoughtfully considered by the school directors, lies in the future.

Frank A. McConnell, who has been identified in the business circles of Reynoldsville over twelve years, has taken charge of Hotel Pantall, of Punxsutawney, the largest hotel in this or adjoining counties. Mr. McConnell was proprietor of Hotel McConnell for five years, and during that time he and his house became popular with the travelling public. Frank is a genial fellow and will, undoubtedly, succeed as proprietor of Hotel Pantall. Mrs. McConnell and son went to Punxsutawney the first of this week.

John W. Philippi has decided that if a majority of the people of Jefferson county will it so he will represent this county in the legislative halls. Mr. Philippi is of the Democratic persuasion and has filled several minor offices in the township and county, but this is his first effort for any honor of importance. He is an energetic man and is what might be termed a "hustler" in an enterprise he undertakes. The people of this section, as he is a Winslow township gentleman, are well acquainted with the Democratic candidate for Assembly.

Peter Burkett, of Horn Settlement, died at three o'clock Sunday morning, May 8th. Mr. Burkett's death was caused by chronic myelitis, from which he has been a patient sufferer nearly two years. About four months ago he was confined to his bed where he remained until the messenger of death claimed him. The funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon and his remains were interred in the Smith cemetery. A wife, five sons and one daughter, Mrs. Josh. Shirley, survive him. Mr. Burkett was well known in this section, having resided in the Horn Settlement nearly thirty years. He was fifty-two years old.

John McConville, who was arrested by Detective Adelsperger last March for breaking into A. V. R. Y. cars at this place, was tried at Brookville this week and found guilty. About seven years ago McConville worked at the tannery. From here he went to St. Marys and there engaged in stealing and was sent to the penitentiary for three years and nine months. Since that time he has been tramping through the country. He and several "pards" were stopping at the coke ovens at the time thieves entered Wm. Burge's store, tannery office, A. V. ticket office and cars. McConville was the only one that sufficient evidence could be procured against to hold for a trial.

"Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus."

BY W. J. WEAVER.

While sojourning in this terrestrial ball, With troubles and trials to grieve us; May this maxim be firmly impressed upon all, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." Like the swift flying clouds are our days fleeting by; Soon, or later grim death will relieve us; Be thou not overcome, but this maxim apply, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." The flowers that bloom through the long summer day, Of the frailty of life seem to plead us; Be earnest and prayerful and give God praise, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." Be hopeful, when sore with affliction depressed, Though Hope very oft will deceive us; The Father is good and means all for the best, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." Though the soul be cast down and dark clouds hover round, Remember our fate seem to leave us; In the darkest of clouds, silver lining is found, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." When tempted and tried afflictions begin, When Satan conspires to deceive us; Yield not to temptation, for yielding is sin, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." In famine's dark day, in adversity's hour Remember God's promise to feed us; To Him be dominion and glory and power, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." When with sorrow overwhelmed and with sadness depressed, And our efforts seem naught to achieve us; Trust fully in God, He'll take care of the rest, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." Sit not idly down and of life fondly dream, Will not from our sorrow retrieve us; Cling firm to this motto whatever betide, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus." If the storms of this life we would safely outride, Even though our afflictions bereave us; Cling firm to this motto whatever betide, "Aspiramus, Nobilissimus, Rebus."

A Pleasant Trip.

D. F. Robinson, who, in company with Jos. S. Morrow, left Reynoldsville on the 14th of January for the Hot Springs in Arkansas, returned last Saturday much improved in health. After a seven weeks' stay at the springs, Mr. Morrow visited friends in Kansas and returned home, but Mr. Robinson took a jaunt into Texas, passing almost through the state. He was in Texas two weeks and enjoyed several hunting expeditions during that time. Mr. Robinson says he killed fourteen quails at four shots, and yet he does not profess to be an expert marksman. He also sojourned in the state of Kansas four weeks. He is not timid in expressing his opinion that Kansas is the place for farming. He saw wheat fields there containing 160 acres. Mr. R. says this was the most pleasant trip of his life. We are glad that he and Mr. Morrow are both enjoying better health since their visit to the Hot Springs.

Corner Stone Laid.

The corner stone of the Catholic church at DuBois was placed in position last Sunday, the ceremonies being witnessed by three thousand people. The priests present were, Right Rev. Tobias Mullen, of Erie, Fathers Maher, of Ridgway, Winkler, of Punxsutawney, Desmond of Coalport, Brady, of Reynoldsville, and McGivney, pastor of the church. The new church is to be a large and magnificent one, costing a large sum of money. The structure is such an imposing one that it will, doubtless, be two years before it is dedicated. The foundation is 60x130 feet. Excursion trains were run to DuBois from Punxsutawney, Johnsonburg and Reynoldsville.

The School Question.

If the school directors wish to do the best for the people and desire to know their wish, let them name three of a board, name time and place and give the tax-payers a chance to express their views by a straw vote, or meet in mass and say shall we have two smaller buildings, one in each end of the town, or rent a building for a time and then put a No. 1 brick on our present location.

TAX-PAYER.

Decoration Day.

All patriotic societies are invited to participate in the proper observance of Decoration Day, May 30, 1892. Any order intending to participate will please early inform R. D. Beer, Chief Marshal.

All old soldiers are requested to meet in the G. A. R. hall at 8.30 a. m. All places of business are requested to be closed from 9 a. m. to 12 m.

COMMITTEE.

Left My Bed and Board.

All persons are hereby notified not to harbor or trust Tillie Simcox on my account, as I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her, she having left my bed and board without any just provocation. G. W. SIMCOX. Sandy Valley, May 9, 1892.

Acclimated.

"A man who has started a newspaper will never afterwards mind trifles like a boil on his nose, or the sweet song of file upon saw, or even a piano next door. He is acclimated."

An Irish peddler, who had imbibed too freely of intoxicants, and had become very hilarious, was put in the lock-up Monday afternoon.

A large invoice of candy, cakes and crackers at McKee & Warnick's first of next week.—We lead in this line.

The ladies of Reynoldsville and vicinity are invited to call and see the large and stylish line of millinery goods and notions at Flo. Best's millinery store.

All kinds of fine pickled goods can be found at McKee & Warnick's. No stale goods, and prices low.

Advertise in THE STAR.

Demise of Mrs. Sedler.

Mrs. Margaret Sedler, wife of John Sedler, the tailor, died at her home on Jackson street Monday, May 9, 1892, at 5:00 p. m. Mrs. Sedler was a victim of the "grip" about one year ago, from which she never fully recovered. On Monday, May 2nd, she was compelled, through illness, to go to bed where she remained until Thursday when she got out of bed, there being no one near, and in walking around fell down stairs. From that time she grew worse.

The subject of this notice was born in County Bern, Switzerland, in 1819, and was, therefore, in her 73rd year in life's journey.

Mr. Sedler and wife came to America in 1865. They moved to Reynoldsville about 16 years ago. The old gentleman is now left alone in the world, no children ever having gathered around their hearth-stone.

The funeral services were held in the M. E. church, Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. P. Murray. The remains were interred in the Beulah cemetery.

Threefold Usefulness.

Last Saturday Joseph Shaffer delivered an express package, neatly done up, to Samuel Lattimer, Quartermaster of the G. A. R. Post at this place, purported to have been shipped from Philadelphia, express prepaid. When the package was opened it was found to be a piece of furniture with a threefold usefulness. Some person had feloniously taken the organ stool out of the G. A. R. Hall some time ago. The new piece of furniture is supposed to be an organ stool, but it will also answer for a rostrum from which recitations can be rendered and upon which the soldier boys can mount and tell some of their thrilling army lies, and it will also be useful in case two—of the many—lusty ladies of the W. R. C. desire to play an instrumental duet on the organ. From whence this valuable appendage to the G. A. R. Hall came is unknown, but Mr. Lattimer is of the opinion that the place designated as the shipping point is a misnomer, and some of the members of the Post at this place could explain the matter.

Geo. F. Cant a Benedict.

(Punxsutawney Spirit.) Mr. George F. Cant, a member of the firm of Cant Brothers & Company, extensive coal operators, of Reynoldsville, Pa., and Miss Christine Wilson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson, were married at the residence of the bride's parents in this place at twelve o'clock on Thursday, Rev. Dr. Jackson, of Gault, Ontario, performing the ceremony. Owing to the recent death of a sister of the bride, the ceremony was private, only near relatives of the contracting parties being present. The couple left on the afternoon train on the Pennsylvania & Northwestern railroad for an extended bridal trip. They will visit Philadelphia, New York city, Baltimore, Washington and a number of other places of interest before their return. It is their intention to make Reynoldsville their future home.

Found in Canada.

A tie-counting tourist who had the semblance of a suspicious character, was taken in charge by Policeman Mincer one evening last week and given a night's lodging in the lock-up. In the morning he was taken before Burgess Hays to be interrogated. The questions and answers were as follows.

Burgess—"Where were you born?"
Tramp—"Well, sir, when I first found myself I was in Canada."
B.—"Where did you get your supper last evening?"
T.—"Have had nothing to eat for four days."
B.—"What have you been living on?"
T.—"Cold water."
B.—"I will give you one hour to get out of town."
T.—"Is that all?"

New Coal Works.

The Reynoldsville and Falls Creek Mining Co. have a number of men at work near Sandy Valley opening a drift and putting up buildings for new coal works. About seventeen years ago Powers, Brown & Co. expended nearly $18,000 at this same place in attempting to get coal. They graded a road, built abutments for a bridge, bought ties and rails, and at the same time were opening a drift. They found a rock fault and abandoned the enterprise. The present company surmounted the rocky difficulty and expect to ship coal from that point about the 1st of July.

A Charming Singer.

Miss Lilly Runals, the charming singer of New York, will sing in the Centennial hall Saturday evening, May 14. Rev. R. F. Sample, N. Y., speaks of Miss Runals as follows: "I shall carry with me always the memory of the sweetest voice I ever heard." Admittance free.

Mrs. A. E. Hotherington, the new millinery, carries a first-class line of goods. Everything of the latest styles. She handles fancy goods, gloves, corsets, &c. Located in the Broadhead building, Main street.—tf.

"Washburns Best," is the name of the best flour on the market. Try a sack of it and be convinced.—McKee & Warnick, The Grocers, Cor. 5th and Main Street.
